

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of doing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, as the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Latta, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Samuel F. Farnes, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is why it is so widely used by the great majority of children's physicians." Thomas E. Curran, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. Feller, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." Rowland Farnes, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Four Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. Parker, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

DANGEROUS JOKER IS PUT OUT OF Y. M. C. A.

He was a short, seedy-looking man, this individual who dropped into the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria Saturday evening, and he was dressed in a near-blue coat with a pair of trousers that might have passed for white to a person who was color blind. His shoes were at least three sizes too big for him, and he walked like a maimed man who had just stepped off a Pacific Mail boat from San Francisco.

He shuffled into the dining room and after casting his eyes over the scenery for a few minutes, picked up a tray and walked up to the steam table and picked out a fifteen-cent "square." Seating himself at the nearest table, his eye was caught by a tastefully arranged bunch of carnations. Picking one out of the vase, he smelled it and then proceeded to eat it with a relish. It tasted so good to him that he had commenced to finish up the rest of the bunch, when "Wiz," who had been told that there was an undesirable character in the dining room, caught sight of him.

Now, carnations cost money, and are certainly not included in a fifteen-cent meal. Wisdom went in and touched him on the shoulder just as he was about to consume the last of the big red flowers.

"Well, little bean, who are you?" asked "Wiz."

The man stopped and looked the secretary over from head to foot.

"Why, don't you know who I be?" asked the seedy individual.

"No," answered Wiz. "Who are you?"

"Why," said the man, "I'm the guy that put the ants in restaurants."

"Is that so," said Wiz, as he hustled him out of the dining room. "Well, you didn't put any ants in this restaurant, so out you go!"

When they got outside the man began to groan and complain.

"Now, what is the matter?" asked "Wiz."

"I told you a lie in there," said the man. "I am not the man who put the ants in restaurants."

"Well, then, for goodness sake who are you?" asked Wisdom.

"I'm the mutt that put the ache in stomachache," he replied.

Then Wiz called a cop.

If Constipated, Bilious, Headache, Stomach Sour, get a 10-cent box of Cascarets—take one tonight

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feet worn out.
